Covid 19 Update for September 2020:

- EY staff identify and teach gaps in pupils' knowledge, experiences and understanding; using informal observations, discussions with children and informal whole class assessment to pin point focus for teaching. This is due to the extended period of time that children have been engaging in remote learning.
- Staff will work alongside families to bring school and home teaching into alignment.
- Staff are aware of expectations and are realistic, focusing on what's most important e.g. vocabulary and communication; health and wellbeing of all children and families.
- EY Teachers work alongside subject leaders to plan a recovery curriculum that addresses the needs and arising areas of development for each EY cohort.
- EY staff find opportunities to share good practice alongside the EY practitioners.
- Staff plan and deliver a curriculum that can be followed in school and at home, addressing the need for Remote Learning in the event of localised lockdowns, or isolation due to 'Track and Trace'
- EY children will work as part of small groups but with heightened awareness of hygiene and handwashing.
- All EY children will be reminded of the importance of 'Catch it, Bin it, Kill it' and reinforced regularly.
- EY children will be provided with individual learning resources to reduce the spread of the virus during teaching time. If areas have shared resources, these will be thoroughly cleaned at the end of each day.
- EY children will continue to access Continuous Provision to enhance Child Initiated learning. All resources will be cleaned at the end of each day and will only be used by one Year Group Bubble.
- EY staff will support transition into Year 1, working together to support the delivery of continuous provision in KS1.
- EY children will continue to access outdoor provision in their Year Group Bubbles. All resources and equipment will be thoroughly cleaned after use.

- EY children will continue to work with outside agencies following the release of updated Government Guidance. This may not be applicable until Summer Term 2021.
- No parents will be allowed to enter the Early Years settings. All parent appointments will need to be booked in advance. Any contact with parents will be done at a 2m social distance. At the start of the Nursery year, parental links will be made through a 1:1 Stay and Play visit.
- EY Staff follow the Launchpad for Literacy Approach to support in the identification of gaps in all areas of Literacy (communication, language, visual and auditory memory, reading comprehension and phonics)

Intent	Implementation	Impact
A Burnopfield Early Years child will be provided with the foundations to equip them for later success, with particular focus on being Year 1 ready.	Our children will be taught a broad and balanced curriculum, following the guidance on the Early Years Foundation Stage. Children will use this to develop their ability to be independent in preparation for Year 1.	Children leave the Early Years with independent skills that can be transferable into the Year 1 National Curriculum.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will develop a growth mindset .	Our children will be introduced to growth mind-set and be encouraged to 'have a go' 'Find a way Frog. The positive language of growth mindset is firmly embedded into our practice and used consistently across Early Years Settings.	Children leave the Early Years with a 'can do' attitude ready for the challenges of Key Stage 1. They have self belief and a willingness to try new things and begin to come up with solutions.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will have an understanding of respect, good manners and courtesy for others. We want them to understand the difference between right and wrong, and be taught strategies to self regulate their behaviour.	Children are introduced to the respect agenda and will learn the Right, Rules and Responsibilities through stories and actions. The 'Respect Agenda' is reinforced on a daily basis across Early Years settings, making links to respecting property and people.	Children leave the Early Years with a sense of right and wrong and are respectful to all people and things. They demonstrate high levels of self-control and can apply strategies to ensure they consistently behave well. Children respond highly to consistent positive praise.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will have a sense of adventure .	Teachers plan engaging and exciting lessons to stimulate a sense of adventure in new contexts. Teacher ensure children are exposed to new experiences in both the indoor and outdoor environments	Early Years children develop strategies to initiate their own adventures through continuous provision. They can apply their skills and are excited to learn, with an interest in the world around them.

A Burnopfield Early Years child will have knowledge inspirational people close to them, and have an understanding of what inspiration is.	Each new topic begins with a clear link to an inspirational person and their impact on the children – parents, grandparents, close family, friends, etc. Teachers will then make links to famous inspirational people- sports personalities and scientists etc.	Early Years Children are inspired by hearing stories and learning about the lives of people who are close to them, and make links to the future.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will be taught, and develop, the skills that allow them to be physically active and have a healthy body.	Our children will take part in weekly PE lessons, developing gross motor skills. Teachers will plan lessons to develop movement skills, climbing and countless opportunities to take part in physical activities. Outdoor provision will be used to enhance this further through climbing frames, bikes and scooters etc.	Our children will leave the Early Years fit and healthy. Children have the relevant physical skills to support their development in Key Stage 1. Children will have an awareness of what it means to have a healthy body and how they can look after their bodies.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will know what it means to be emotionally resilient and value having a healthy mind.	The Early Years provision provides high quality pastoral support. Children are given care and support, and are taught strategies to support emotional well being. Children have access Relax Kids if needed, and use the mile a day.	Children leave the Early Years as confident, happy and resilient individuals with a healthy body and mind. Children have a positive mental well being and have strategies to support them when faced with challenges or difficulties.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will have aspirations for the future and be ready to meet the challenges of the next stage of their education and their lives.	Through our curriculum children have opportunities to experience the world of work and the types of jobs that people do. Children will have access to role play activities to support their understanding of different careers. Children will have opportunities to talk to children in Key Stage 1 to support visions for the future.	Early Years children have an understanding of the range of careers undertaken by people around them. Early years children will have an understanding of the next steps in the near future.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will know some strategies to support the development of their long-term memory.	Early Years teachers ensure children transfer key knowledge to long-term memory by recapping, consolidating and building on	Children will enter Key Stage 1 having developed some strategies to support their long term memory. Children will enter Key

	future learning. Basic skills are revisited through input in the continuous provision and through teaching in a meaningful, memorable context. Teaching is sequenced so that new knowledge and skills build on what has been taught before and so that pupils can work towards clearly defined end points.	Stage 1 'knowing more and remembering more' to support them in the next stage of education.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will be exposed to a wide range of vocabulary and will use them in everyday learning and play.	Children will be exposed to a broad range of new vocabulary based on themes, new books and their own interests. Each term settings will have 'Vocabulary Drop' to introduce new words to children. Correct speech and use of vocabulary will be modelled and corrected by adults.	A Burnopfield child leaves the Early Years using a wide range of new vocabulary in everyday conversations and their learning. Children enter Year 1 using correct speech and language ready for the National Curriculum challenges.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will have a sense of belonging within their school surroundings and the immediate local area.	Through continuous provision and adult led activities children will study the school around them and will find out about where they are in the world. Every year the children will seek out part of the community and liaise with them to work together. Early Years Children will learn about inspirational local people who they are aware of e.g. Drs, Nurses, Rev Miller.	Early Years children will have started to develop a sense of where they come from and know about the village they are in. Early Years Children have been exposed to inspirational people from the local area, giving them some aspirations for the future.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will understand that we are all different yet all equal.	Through curriculum assemblies and 'In the News', children know that we live in a diverse society. Children learn about different families and how they can be made up of different people. We have 'Rainbow Ambassadors' in school who promote equality and acceptance.	Children leave the Early Years respectful and tolerant of everyone and know that in society we are 'all different but all equal.'

A Burnopfield Early Years child will have access to a broad and balanced curriculum, driven by the needs and individual starting points of the children.	Through detailed curriculum planning, teachers build in a range of opportunities for children to repeat knowledge and skills and consolidate learning to build on what they have studied in previous terms. Opportunities to consolidate learning will be offered as part of high quality continuous provision. Exit tickets will be introduced to all children to demonstrate 'knowing more and remembering more.' Early Years staff will plan creative and engaging activities based on the needs and starting points of every child.	Children leave the Early Years inspired to learn as they move into Year 1. Children consistently achieve highly, particularly the most disadvantaged and children with SEN. Children have developed strategies to support their long term memory to support recall in Key Stage 1.
Burnopfield Early Years parents will take an active part in our curriculum.	Parents are regularly invited into school to participate in their children's learning through parent's evenings, concerts, shows, workshops and stay and play activities.	Parents are well-informed about the curriculum and school life. Parents engage well with school events.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will have started to build a bank of experiences linked to cultural capital.	Every term, an out of school visit (or visitors into school) is planned for to link to the work studied in provision. We believe that this engages our children more fully into the topics they are studying, develops their a range of cultural experiences and helps them to succeed in life.	Early Years children have been exposed to a wide variety of experiences during their time with us, experiences that they may not have the opportunity to engage in otherwise e.g. a National Trust property, a local farm, talking to local inspirational people, working with artists in school, watching a theatre production etc
A Burnopfield Early Years child will start to develop a love for the performing arts.	Children have a range of opportunities to develop their experience of performing arts through school plays and performances, concerts etc. and through continuous provision. Children will be exposed to a wide range of musical opportunities and use role play areas as area enhancements to develop their imagination. We have	Early Years Children have had experience of performing arts through their play and adult led tasks, and begin to show increasing confidence when speaking in front of others. appointed a whole school Drama lead and a whole school Artsmark and Cultural lead.

A Burnopfield Early Years child will begin to understand the importance of showing high standards in all subjects and will take pride in both children initiated and independent tasks.	Teachers in the Early Years have high consistently expectations all children. Monitoring of the Early Years teaching and provision is relentless. Teachers ensure that lessons are well prepared, meet the needs of the children and that children are challenged. Staff in the Early Years equip areas with high quality resources accessible to all children. Teachers use highly effective questioning. Teachers consolidate learning and deepen understanding. Teachers and subject leaders have strong subject knowledge.	Children leave the Early Years presenting work of a high quality. Attainment at the end of the Early Years Foundation Stage is outstanding with a higher than national % of children achieving the Good Level of Development. Children leave the Early Years having made outstanding progress relative to their starting points.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will have developed strategies to support reading, and a love of reading .	Reading is prioritised to allow children to access the full curriculum. Children take part in systematic synthetic phonics sessions across the Early Years Provision. Continuous provision develops this love of reading further and provides opportunities for children to apply reading skills and knowledge. Children access regular story times, using this time to develop listening and comprehension skills.	Children have the foundations to ensure they can read well. They read widely and with developing fluency and comprehension appropriate to their age. Children have a range of favourite authors and a well-developed vocabulary through a clear love for reading.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will use Standard English .	All Early Years staff are reminded to use Standard English and children are constantly encouraged to do the same. Children will have incorrect sentences modelled back to them and broken English will be modelled using expansion.	Children leave the Early Years using standard English and mostly speaking in full sentences. Children enter Year 1 using well-developed language and vocabulary.

A Burnopfield Early Years child will develop an understanding of British Values.	Pupil voice is high priority and we ensure that children experience democracy and through assemblies and in class votes, we promote many aspects of British Values. Children in the Early Years will be taught the importance of rights through our 4 school rights: the right to be safe; the right to learn; the right to be happy and the right to be valued. Children will begin to understand what it means to be valued and will begin to use the vocabulary British Values through adult modelling.	Children leave the Early Years with an understanding of life in Britain and what it means to have values and be valued.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will be aware of the world around them outside of their largely white British community.	Through weekly 'In the News' lessons children talk about what has been happening outside of school and the local area. They listen to news stories and watch Newsround to gain an understanding of events, which are age appropriate, in the world around them.	Children enter Key Stage One with an understanding of major events and current issues in the world. Children leave the Early Years with an understanding of its importance in their lives.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will develop academically, spiritually, morally, culturally and socially.	Through assemblies, In the News, RSHE and RE, children develop spiritually, morally, culturally and socially. Children enter Year 1 fully understanding the 4 Golden Rules, knowing about their basic personal beliefs and understanding that people can follow different religions and faiths.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will engage in learning outside the classroom.	Outdoor continuous provision gives children opportunities to learn in different environments. Children are provided with opportunities to apply skills and consolidate learning in a range of areas in the outdoors. Adult Led activities ensure that children make good use of our forest school and many different aspects of learning take place	Children leave the Early Years having developed a love of the outdoors! Children know that learning doesn't just take place in the classroom. Children have collaborative skills and practical skills that they can apply across the curriculum.

	outdoors. Children use the outdoors to develop fine and gross motor skills to support learning and development in all aspects of school life.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will keep themselves safe online .	Online safety and digital literacy is constantly reinforced in every year group at regular intervals every term. Continuous provision allows children to use technology safely and demonstrate their understanding of staying safe online at an age appropriate level.	Children leave the Early Years understanding the importance of staying safe online. They know that information should be kept private and adult supervision and support is vital.
A Burnopfield Early Years child will have up to date knowledge of computing and technology in the world around.	Computing skills are taught discretely in the Early Years with access to iPads to support learning in continuous provision. Children will be introduced to the google classroom to support transition into Year 1. iPad access will allow children to navigate technology to support the development of other areas of the curriculum e.g Reading, Writing, Number Formation and recognition. Staff use every opportunity to enhance teaching and learning through technology.	Children leave the Early Years with increasing confidence when using technology. They are able to use technology discretely and to support every area of their learning.

Built into the curriculum this year are themed days where children are immersed in a subject with links to the EYFS Areas of Learning; History, Geography, Art, DT etc. Making links to the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum. Health and Fitness week is an annual event, promoting healthy body and healthy mind. Safer Internet Day is celebrated in February each year following the SID theme.
